

Safety Solutions Inc.

Worldwide Industrial Training and Response

Founded in 1996, Safety Solutions, Inc began as a one-person regulatory and emergency response training agency. Today Safety Solutions is the acknowledged leader in providing emergency response, technology assessment, and training throughout the world. Customers worldwide number more than 18,000 – including many Fortune 500 companies – representing a wide range of industries, including transportation, distribution, manufacturing, construction, emergency response, military, and more.

Over the past decade, Safety Solutions has helped organizations respond quickly and precisely to extreme emergency challenges — and doing so in a cost effective manner.

As a leader in this field we take our role seriously. Safety Solutions' highly regarded professionals are active emergency responders, professional emergency managers, chemists, technologists, and multi-media development specialists. Safety Solutions' custom services are developed and backed by this group of professionals to help solve your training, response, and compliance needs. Our response, environmental, safety, and health professionals design powerful programs while maintaining ongoing contact with government officials, professional organizations, and other industry professionals to bring you the latest in technology and equipment as it develops.

Whether you turn to Safety Solutions for consulting services, training courses, customized on-site programs, or leading-edge technology evaluations, we maintain close contact with you to assure we address your organization's emerging needs.

"I attribute our achievements to our loyal customers. I also acclaim Safety Solutions' staff of highly qualified, customer-centered professionals whose ideals form our motto to be "Better Than The Best," Michael T. Reimer, CEO
